A collaboration between the Advisor to the President on Women's Issues, the Women's Studies Program, and the Women's Resource Centre, The Future of Women's Studies in Alberta Symposium will be the first meeting that brings together the five Alberta universities offering Women's and Gender Studies programs.

On September 28 and 29, join faculty, student, and campus women's centre representatives as they examine the history of Women's Studies in Alberta, analyze the strengths and weaknesses of current practices, and debate the future of Women's Studies in the 21st century.

Because space is limited, registration is required, but admission to both events is free.
